

Greetings

Bonnie's traffic violation was dismissed!! Praise God!! She didn't think she had to go to court then but got a call that she should have if she wants it off her record. The court assistant called and said that it was OK. There was nothing on the dismissal notice that she still had to show up at court. Thanks for all your prayers.

Maybe you heard that she fell in the backyard bringing food into the house from the grill outside. She was trying to get the screen door open, and calling me and I didn't hear her. She fell on a little table we have out there onto grass. The table broke her fall or she would have landed on concrete. She went to the dr. and found nothing broke but some bruises. Thank God! She is now fine. The food somehow survived and we had a good dinner!

I (Ron) am on an Androgen Hormonal Deprivation therapy where I get two injections once a month. So far it has been working because the prostate PSA readings have gone down from 16 to 5.5. Thanks for your prayer. Both hips in fatigue but still walking 3 mi a day and doing the usual yard work.

Our chapel opened up a month ago so we have resumed our adult SS class ministry and will get involved in further things as time goes on.

We're so happy to see all our friends. All the 5 chaplains are new since closure in March 2020. That's how often we get new chaplains, continual turnover

Sincerely,

Ron and Bonnie Johnson
